Yes, absolutely! Corticosteroids are not harmful for your child. Corticosteroids are NOT the same as anabolic steroids, used by athletes to increase muscle tissue.

- Long-term treatment with corticosteroids is safe and can help your child's lungs return to normal without any harmful side effects.
- Corticosteroids are controller medicines and are safe to be taken everyday.
- Corticosteroids reduce inflammation in the lungs and are currently the best treatment for asthma.
- Corticosteroids work well because they help keep the lungs healthy to prevent asthma attacks, instead of just treating the symptoms.
